WE DO INTERIM MANAGEMENT & TURNAROUND.

WE DO CONSULTING & MANAGEMENT.

WE DO PERFORMANCE IMPROVEMENT.

WE PERFORM & WILL DO THIS FOR YOU!

Glowing Passion for Performance

Interim Management & Turnaround

In times of economic uncertainty, it is recommendable to temporarily integrate turnaround managers in your company as crisis-tested, operationally experienced "men of action" with a long-lasting field and management experience. In case of lots of problems, interim managers are the perfect completion of the company management or the company owners. Our interim managers come into operation when taking over temporary management tasks such as project and crisis management and when bridging vacancies in line management. They operate objectively, result- and fact-oriented and are quickly available. They support medium-sized companies and corporations within all management levels. Reasons for using interim managers: generational change, restructuring, turnaround, lack of managers, site closings, relocations, implementation of consulting concepts, commissioning (ramp-up) of new locations (see graphic chart on the right side).

Project Management

A professional project management in the realization phase, together with a comprehensive, significant and targeted planning are indispensable. Current implementations leave no room for resource dissipations (time, money and environment). Based on profitability calculations, targets must be reached at the right moment. Market and clients punish inefficiencies in a Darwinian way. We do not examine planning, architecture, engineering and business economy in the traditional kind of way. One of the early-declared tasks of KW-Consulting-Group is to reach ideal results with the best project manager and state-of-the-art management tools. We – the KW-Consulting-Group – develop further this know-how every day worldwide. Our highly-efficient project management model ensures the project coordination, the performance provision and the cost control. We are focussed on your project, your targets and your success.

Industrial Engineering

Engineering is a complex, interdisciplinary task, which demands rigour, a high motivation, determination and careful coordination from the entire project team. Each discipline must be occupied compulsorily by a specialist of the field in question. However, it must understand the suggestions, objections and requirement of other disciplines. A mutual supporting and forming esprit is the prerequisite for the success of a complex project. This esprit confers wings to the entire team of the KW-Consulting-Group. The most important link in the development process is the cooperation of KW-Consulting-Group with its clients. Exchange of ideas and discussions about requirements start with the first project discussion and continue throughout the entire duration of the project realization. The declared target of our company is to fulfil and outperform the demands and requirements of our clients.

Control process

The total quality management control process starts with the planning and project specifications and accompanies the implementation up to the handover to our customers. During the implementation phase, supporting and responsible team members remain actively involved in the project until handover. In this way, the smallest projects of a few man-days up to large projects in the million range can be realized without any problems. We stand for this with our name and also demonstrate this with our above-average guarantee and insurance services, which are unusual in the industry. Krapohl-Wirth and its partners now offer a complete package in the field of engineering. Thanks to decades of experience, KW has qualified specialists in the individual disciplines who take over this service to the full extent. We think ahead, plan cost- and environmentally-oriented, optimized and implement on-time. Our references speak for themselves.

Potential Audit

Regardless of whether your company's earnings situation is negative, neutral or top-in-class. With a potential audit, you can turn on the turbo in your operational development. We make your competitive situation unassailable and catapult your company to the top. We scan your company using specially trained teams consisting of logistics, business administration, market and strategy, product and process specialists. With our expertise and our holistic approach, we are your premium contact. In a very short time we analyzed your processes, evaluated your committee and reviewed your organization and created appropriate transparency. Within just one week, our „SWOT analysis“ provides the results of key areas of action in which your company is clearly lagging behind the competition. Alternatively, our potential audit provides a catalog of measures that picks up on all key areas of action and underpins them with remedial measures.
